

Three Steps for Faith-based Organizations to Offer Love as Sovereign Statecraft

1) Frame the Why: Complementary Civics

- Speak sovereignty-as-responsibility—national and global.
- Ground every ask in sacred worth, human dignity, and creation care.
- Say the quiet part out loud: UN cooperation strengthens sovereignty by building predictability and trust.

2) Make Creation Care & Health Security Statecraft

- Pair theology with tools: early-warning systems, transparent data-sharing, just-transition financing, equitable access to vaccines and therapeutics.
- Ask for targets, timelines, and public reporting so commitments become outcomes.

3) Advance Just Economies

- Convene government missions, UN agencies, labor, and business around due diligence, fair taxation of mobile capital, and joint enforcement against trafficking and corruption.
- Keep dignity of work and corporate responsibility front and center—because markets must serve people, not the other way around.
